Betsy Rosenwald & Dawna Rose: JOPTY - Journal of the Plague Years

Studio Open House: Saturday, February 26, 1 - 4 PM

Reminder: Rosenwald and Rose invite you to visit the gallery this Saturday, February 26th, between 1PM and 4PM for a Studio Open House. Stop in to meet the artists and to see their works in progress. Their dramatic transformation of the gallery offers a glimpse into their creative processes.

Art Placement is pleased to host artists Betsy Rosenwald and Dawna Rose for the month of February. They will occupy the gallery, utilizing the space as their studio. Both artists continue to dedicate much of their focus to the ongoing pandemic. Their multi-faceted project, JOTPY (originally Journal of the Plague Year, now Journal of the Plague Years) continues to progress and evolve parallel to the enduring public health crisis. Rosenwald and Rose will welcome visitors for an open studio event towards the end of the month. Details about the event will be shared in the near future.
